(Compiled from A. P. Dispatches)
Formal entry was made into Jerusalem yesterday by General Allenby, commander of the British forces in Palestine to whom the city surrendered on Monday after it had been surrounded by British troops.

There are some signs of a renewal of the Austro-German effort to break the Italian front between the Brenna and the Piave in northern Italy and a heavy bombardment is being reported in that sector of the mountain line. Snow has begun falling in the mountains, however, and this is counted upon to work against the Teutonic forces making their communications more difficult to keep up and helping to black their way into the passes.

While Bolsheviki power in Russia is being menaced on many sides the peace movement which the extreme left government recently instituted apparently is being pushed with all possible rapidity.

The latest report on the progress of the exchanges with the Teutonic representatives at the front comes from a German source the semi-official Berlin news agency announcing that authorization has been given a new Russian commander to open peace negotiations with Germany on the Russian front. Demobilization of the Russian forces already has begun, it is declared. On the Rumanian front an armistice for an indefinite period has been signed.

The infantry inactivity on the Franco-Belgian front, except as regards employment of this arm of the service in reconnoitering thrusts has been broken only by a local attack by the Germans on the Cambrai front north of La Vaquelette where the British were repulsed. Operations have otherwise been confined to artillery bombardments which has lessened somewhat in intensity and to airplane fighting.

Bolsheviki power in Petrograd is being menaced more seriously as the opposition becomes solidified. There is unrest in Petrograd and Moscow, the extremist strongholds, and the Cossacks already have advanced from

STATE CLOSES CASE IN THE MEANS TRIAL

(Associated Press Telegram)
Concord, N. C., Dec. 12.—The prosecution in the case of Gaston B. Means, on trial here for the murder of Mrs. Maude A. King, the wealthy New York and Chicago widow closed its case at the opening of court today contrary to previous plans.

Solicitor Clement announced he would make the opening address to the jury and it has been announced that the defense in its plea to the jury would condemn the action of New York police in seizing documents and papers from Means' apartment.

Solicitor Clement then summed up the evidence and asked the jury to bring in a verdict of murder in the first degree. At the same time he stated that the jury had the option of three verdicts, namely, first and second degree murder and manslaughter. Only the first named is punishable by death.

The solicitor outlined the state's contention that Means squandered and appropriated a large portion of the estate of Mrs. King and then killed her to escape the early day of accounting feared. He stated that during the first year that Means handled Mrs. King's affairs $185,000 of her estate was spent, whereas she had spent only $150,000 during nine years preceding though she lived in Paris and travelled in Europe and America.

Boreca escaped and the police throughout southern New Jersey were conducting a search for him. The shooting occurred at the home of Deluca where Mrs. Boreca and her daughter boarded.

HOLIDAY CANDY RUINED.
Toledo, O., Dec. 12.—Encased in ice and climbing ice-coated ladders, firemen fought a $50,000 fire here early today. Two upper floors of the Charles H. Messenger company wholesale candy house, were gutted and the stocks ruined. The loss includes a large amount of sugar and holiday candy.

WARNS AGAINST PEACE TALKERS

A. Curtis Roth.

TRUCK DRIVERS ARE WANTED AT CAMP SHERMAN

(Associated Press Telegram)
Camp Sherman, Chillicothe, Dec. 12.—Truck drivers—men who have had experience in civil life in this sort of work—are wanted in the National army at Camp Sherman. A large number of men who know automobile motors may enlist here and be assigned either to the ordnance department—ammunition and other trains—or to the quartermaster's corps, in this sort of service. In event of their enlistment, they would become members of the National army.

Enlistments may be made at the camp through the process of first volunteering for the regular and then being transferred to the drafted division in the capacity of truck drivers. Enlistments will close on Saturday, Dec. 15, at midnight.

Official orders have been issued here for the establishment of a "bad weather" schedule. Division headquarters today sent word to all regiments that when weather conditions are such that being on regular drill schedule might result in harmful effects to recruits, outdoor work is to be done away with excepting for two short hikes per day just before noon and evening mess. Other time will be taken up with indoor instruction.

Forty-five newly commissioned officers from Fort Sheridan were arriving in camp today. The men are assigned to various units as soon as their report at division headquarters. Word has been sent from Washington to Camp Sherman that plenty of ammunition will be on hand soon for target practice with small arms. Thirteen million five hundred rounds will be furnished for rifles, machine guns and pistols, it was announced. It is thought that the new rifle range just east of camp will be ready for use in a few days and practice will start immediately. No instructions have as yet been received as to when ammunition for the artillery regiments will be available.

Men of the 332nd light field artillery, composed of Dayton, Newark and western Ohio selects, were busy today being initiated into the use of gas masks. Several companies at the time were marched to the base hospital where lectures were delivered and later were forced to wear the apparatus for a short time.

Seven more aliens were discharged today, it having been found that they had been wrongfully inducted into the national army. Ten negro draftees also received discharge slips because of physical defects.

LAKE FREIGHTERS IMPRISONED IN ICE WILL RESUME TRIP

(Associated Press Telegram)
Detroit, Mich., Dec. 12.—Approximately 35 lake freighters imprisoned in the ice in the Livingstone channel below here and near Port Huron were expected to resume their trip down the lakes today after having been released by powerful ice breakers. They were all in the Detroit river today waiting for a passage to be opened into clear water in Lake Erie.

Ice from six to eight inches thick is reported in St. Marys river and South St. Marie but a big car ferry is keeping the channel open.

STATE CLAIMS A MOTIVE FOR WOMAN'S DEATH

Shows Through Witnesses
Husband Was Fond of
His Neighbor's Wife

NUMBER OF JOY RIDES TAKEN BY PRINCIPALS

Testimony Offered In Trial That Defendant Was
Enamored of Another

(Associated Press Telegram)
Wausau, O., Dec. 12.—Attorneys for the prosecution continued their efforts, today, to weave a web of circumstantial evidence which, they believe, will convict Fred Lehman of the murder of his wife, Grace.

Through the testimony of Mrs. Chester C. Mills, the first to reach the Lehman home on the night of the murder, Prosecutor Ham attempted to show that burglars did not have anything to do with the killing of Mrs. Lehman, as the defense claims.

Mrs. Mills and her 14-year-old son, Melvin, testified shortly before noon. She declared there were no signs of a struggle in the room where she found the murdered woman lying on her bed. Lehman's pillow, she said, was smooth, indicating that he had not touched it. His watch was lying on a window sill in plain view.

Melvin Mills said he was awakened by the cries of Lehman for help. He did not hear the report of a pistol, nor the barking of dogs. The Mills family live just across the road from the Lehman home.

Detectives James O'Reilly and Fred Kruse of the Toledo police force will be the first witnesses tomorrow, it is expected.

(Associated Press Telegram)
Wausau, O., Dec. 12.—Through eleven witnesses yesterday at the Lehman murder trial the state claims to have proven that the motive for the murder of Mrs. Grace Lehman by her husband, Fred, on the night of September 16, was the Lehman's love for Mrs. Alcy Fenton, wife of Leo Fenton, a neighbor of the Lehmans.

The state also claims it has proved Lehman owned a revolver, despite his statements that he never owned anything but a shot gun. Mrs. Fenton, who testified yesterday that Lehman kissed and fondled her, stuck to her testimony throughout the cross-examination. She was followed by her husband, Leo, who told of joy parties to which he, his wife and the Lehmans participated. He said that on one of the eventful trips to Maumee, Lehman told him to "drink a plenty, that it would be his last chance." He said he did, which proved (Continued on Page 11, Col. 3.)

REVISED LIST OF THE CASUALTIES REDUCES DEATHS

(Associated Press Telegram)
Halifax, Dec. 12.—A revised estimate today of the explosion casualties reduces the death list to approximately 1800. The unknown dead total 800 and it is believed that not more than 1,000 bodies still lie under the debris of shattered and burned buildings. The list of victims is steadily becoming smaller as relatives are reunited and refugees who left the city return.

From 300 to 500 persons are totally or partly blind and 200 children have each lost both parents, according to the American and Canadian workers investigating the situation.

The Boston relief ship Calvin Austin entered the harbor today. The formidable estimates of casualties made during the hours immediately after the explosion apparently were due, it developed today, to the fact that some of the bodies were counted several times. The relief workers explained that even today's revised figures are not to be regarded as final inasmuch as many entire families were destroyed, no members being alive to report such losses. It is estimated that 500 houses were wrecked beyond repair and that 500 others were totally destroyed and that 1,000 can be restored to use.

Conditions in the town of Dartmouth were particularly distressing today. Some of the inhabitants who were injured by the explosion, fire or tidal wave and not receiving medical attention up to this morning and the relief system is being reorganized so they may receive necessary aid at once. In one shelter in Dartmouth investigators found 390 men, women and children.

A general funeral service for all the dead is to be held Friday. Some of the bodies will rest beside victims of the Titanic and Bourgogne disasters, in Fairview cemetery. Others will occupy so many graves in Camp Hill cemetery that this burial ground will be completely filled and will thereafter be closed.

The official inquiry into the disaster will begin late today. Word was received from Ottawa today that the military service council had suspended operations of the Canadian military draft in the Halifax district on account of the disaster.

OHIO SOLDIERS IN FINE CONDITION IS COMMISSION'S REPORT

(Associated Press Telegram)
Columbus, Dec. 12.—The physical condition and spirits of Ohio soldiers both at Camp Sheridan, Montgomery, Ala., and at Camp Sherman, Chillicothe, are described as excellent and the material care of the men is well provided for, according to a report made today to Governor James M. Cox by the commission appointed by the governor to visit the camps and ascertain the needs of the members of the various Ohio military organizations.

"Both as to quality and quantity of food, it is excellent and needs nothing from the outside," says the commission's report. "The few sweet meats and extras they desire can easily be furnished by the men themselves from company funds which are available to every company through the savings from mess funds and profits from the post exchanges. Profits from the post exchanges run from $300 to $500 a month for each company. This, with the savings from the mess fund furnishes an ample sum for any material fund the men may need, the report says.

While the report states that the men are well cared for, the commission thinks that the people of the state should, through organization, make evident their pride and affection for Ohio men engaged in the service of the country. In this connection the suggestion is made that the people be organized for this through the Red Cross and recommends that the solicitation of funds should be limited to agencies duly recognized by the government. It is also suggested that funds should be used for such purposes as may be approved by the division commander of the troops.

William Cooper Proctor of Cincinnati, president of the commission, talked over the report with James R. Garfield, Cleveland manager of the lake division of the Red Cross, and Mr. Garfield has advised Governor Cox that the Red Cross will take up this work promptly. Every facility was furnished the commission to examine conditions at the camps and there was full opportunity for personal interviews with both officers and enlisted men at both camps.

CONGRESS WILL MAKE INQUIRY INTO WAR WORK

Military Committee Will Investigate Arming and Equipping Forces

ACTUAL APPROPRIATIONS CAUSE OF MUCH DELAY

Will Delve Into Matter of Building Cantonments and Furnishing Supplies

(Associated Press Telegram)
Washington, Dec. 12.—Inquiry by congress into the general conduct of the war was begun today with investigation by the senate military committee of the war department's work in arming and equipping the American forces.

Major General Crozier, chief of ordnance, said an obstacle in the early work was that the military policy defined in the national defense act of 1916 contemplated a force of 1,000,000 men to be raised in five years.

"It is apparent," he said, "that the original program for 1,000,000 men did not contemplate our participation in the war. We compressed the five-year program into one year when it immediately came apparent that the one million program would not do."

Preparation of estimates and actual appropriation by congress, the general said, caused further delay.

"We did everything we could," he continued, "to get the manufacturing establishments of the country going on orders in anticipation of appropriations. One obstacle was that many manufacturers did not care to spend money or could not secure loans in advance of actual appropriations. That caused very considerable delay. There also were delays under the abnormal purchasing system necessary, without time for competitive bidding in many cases."

Referring to the "cost plus 10 per cent" contracts, General Crozier said the system had "worked out fairly well."

But it is not as good as when prices are definitely fixed," he said. "It is better to use that only in case of emergency."

"Some manufacturers would not take fixed contracts at all," General Crozier said. "They would not take the risk except with a profit on a percentage basis. They had had their fingers burned. No orders for rifles were made at a fixed price; manufacturers would not take the orders."

Upon inquiry by Senator Wadsworth, General Crozier said that early in the war the president had allotted $25,000,000 of his $100,000,000 emergency fund to the war department and that emergency orders for material had been given.

With General Crozier, chief of ordnance first to be questioned by the senate military committee today began a general inquiry into the work of the war department, a step which capital leaders say, will prove the forerunner of an investigation of all phases of executive conduct of the war.

Similar investigations promised by other senate and house committees are expected to accomplish in a measure the purpose of the proposed joint committee for "the conduct of the war." This idea was abandoned last session because of President Wilson's opposition.

The senate military inquiry to be directed especially at the arming and equipping of the nation's man-power was ordered by the committee yesterday on reports the committeemen are understood to have heard regarding lack of clothing and equipment in army camps. Transportation of soldiers and reports that they have been crowded into trains and not properly rationed, and contracts for building cantonments and furnishing supplies and other subjects on which the investigation will touch. General Crozier's testimony was regarding ordnance manufacture and supply.

FIRE IN THE SHELL LOADING DEPARTMENT BETHLEHEM STEEL CO.

(Associated Press Telegram)
Wilmington, Del., Dec. 12.—A terrific bombardment shortly before 8 o'clock this morning with shells flying in every direction, aroused New Castle and immediate vicinity as well as Wilmington and other points and soon developed into a fire which spread to the most dangerous sections of the shell loading plant of the Bethlehem Steel company about a mile below New Castle. The blaze, which is of unknown origin, started in the shell loading houses in which were stored 4,600 shells loaded with T. N. T., one of the most violent of all explosives used in war and 30,000 empty shells. The fire had scarcely started when the contents of the loaded shells began to fly in every direction. The building which was a frame structure, about 100 by 150 feet, burned like tinder, and as the flames reached the loaded shells the latter began to explode and occasionally one would be hurled out of the building.

One man, Theodore Jacobson, of Harrison, N. J., the chief of the guard, was killed, his head being blown off by one of the shells. So far as could be learned, no other persons were hurt, either in the fire or because of the explosions, but several were slightly hurt while running to escape danger or help someone else.

ANNUAL SESSION AMERICAN LEAGUE BEING HELD TODAY

(Associated Press Telegram)
Chicago, Dec. 12.—American League club owners met here today in what is considered one of the most important annual sessions of recent years. Although many problems, most of them results of war time conditions were scheduled to be taken up, no frictions among the owners was expected and, according to President Ben Johnson, the session will probably end tonight. The league then will mark time pending the arrival of National league club owners for a joint conference, probably Friday.

"Important policies must be decided upon today," said President Johnson, "but our time will be taken up in voting, not in talking."

GOVERNOR COX ACTS QUICK ON COAL SITUATION

Takes Problem Into His Own Hands Over Heads of Federal Officials

ORDERS SOLID TRAINS OF COAL DISTRIBUTED

Action Followed Appeal Directly to Pres. Wilson
Late Yesterday

(Associated Press Telegram)
Columbus, Dec. 12.—Governor James M. Cox went over the heads of federal fuel administration officials today and has taken the Ohio coal shortage problem in his own hands.

The first move today was to order solid train loads of coal assembled and sent immediately to points in the state most seriously in need of fuel. The order is directly contrary to instructions of F. C. Baird, federal fuel administrator in charge of the lakes coal pool, Cleveland, who refused by long distance telephone today to sanction such action.

The Ohio executive's order followed his appeal directly to President Wilson late yesterday in which he asked the president to sanction an order to permit Ohio consumers to take over thousands of cars of coal consigned to lake points, which have been standing on sidings for days, while families living within sight of it have been on the verge of freezing.

Immediate relief was promised by federal authorities last night through instructions from the fuel administrator to Governor C. Johnson, federal fuel administrator, Ohio, calling for diversion of lakes coal to meet the state's pressing needs.

Following up this move, Governor Cox today got in communication with Mr. Baird by long distance telephone at Russell, Ky., and asked for immediate diversion of all lakes coal and its shipment over the state in solid train loads. Mr. Baird indicated that the governor's order was held responsible by operation of the cost of all lake fuel standing on Ohio tracks and declared he would not release it unless pay was guaranteed.

Governor Cox asked that either Mr. Baird or a representative of his department be sent at once to Columbus to operate and work with state officials before any guarantee payment. The conversation ended by refusal of the Cleveland man to accept the proposal.

Summoning M. J. Caples, vice president of the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad, who is chairman of the Ohio branch Council of National Defense, and General Manager M. S. Connors, of the Hocking Valley railroad, immediate steps were taken for procuring more power to operate special coal trains.

The three officials, with Charles C. Marshall of the state public utilities commission; E. D. Leach, assistant federal fuel administrator, and J. B. Dugan, chief inspector of the utilities commission held a meeting just before noon today and completed arrangements for handling the trains and taking care of those sections and cities suffering the most keenly.

The plan will be to go direct into railroad yards where lake pool coal is standing, assemble a train of cars and start it out at once. It will be consigned to the chairman of County Fuel Administration organizations, formed several weeks ago to aid in handling the fuel problem. (Continued on Page 11, Col. 4.)

DUTCH STEAMSHIP IS DETAINED AT HALIFAX WITH BELGIAN CARGO

The Hague, Tuesday, Dec. 11.—The Netherlands Overseas Trust was informed today by the British legation that the Dutch steamship Nieuw Amsterdam, with a cargo for Belgian relief is being detained at Halifax, having been provided with no safe conduct or distinguishing mark and also having passengers on board. Under these circumstances and especially in view of the recent seizure by the Germans of the Belgian relief steamer Haelem, the British government cannot undertake the responsibility of permitting the Nieuw Amsterdam to continue her voyage, the Overseas Trust was told.

The Nieuw Amsterdam, the crack steamship of the Holland-American line was the first Dutch vessel to leave New York after the embargo was imposed several months ago on the Dutch steamships. She put in at Halifax some time ago and there were fears for her safety at the time of the explosion. She had on board 340 passengers, including ten Americans and tons of corn for the Belgians.

PINOCHLE BANQUET ENJOYED BY SIXTY GUESTS LAST NIGHT

Sixty Elks enjoyed a banquet last evening in the banquet room of the new Elk dancing emporium in East Park Place, it having been arranged as the result of a pinochle tournament held the past month, there being eighteen teams participating in 49 games. It proved interesting and was highly enjoyable to the contestants.

The banquet was arranged and prepared under the skillful direction of Col. Billy Hohl, club steward, and was served by an efficient corps of waiters, directed by Howard "Heavy" Keller. The cuisine was excellent and highly complimented by everyone, Col. Hohl receiving a great meed of praise for his efficiency.

After the supper fragrant cigars were passed and Harry D. Hale, toastmaster of the occasion, spoke on behalf of the losing side and complimented the winners, also stating that plans were in the making for another similar tournament. He then introduced Hon. A. A. Stasel, who delivered one of his characteristic and enjoyable talks.

Mr. A. E. Kirby of New York was next introduced and gave a highly humorous and diverting talk, apologizing for his non-appearance of his opera company which had been booked to appear at the banquet, stating that they had become stalled in a snowdrift at Central City and no one as yet had succeeded in digging them out. Mr. Kirby makes a Chesterfieldian appearance as an after dinner speaker, and his quick perception and keen discernment, with his natural facetiousness, drollery and waggishness, demonstrated the fact that he is not only a polished and delectable post-prandial orator, but is equally in the element of his best endeavor as a purveyor of wit and wisdom.

Hon. B. G. Smythe was next called upon by Toastmaster Hale and gave a fine talk on things in general, stating that he was not an adept at pinochle or any other game of cards but he believed he was competent to judge a good dinner or a good horse race.

Mr. James McGonagle was next called upon and requested to give an explanation of how it is possible for an expert "pinochler" to lose seven straight games at one sitting and retain an even composure. Mr. McGonagle was equal to the occasion and explained satisfactorily to all.

A social session of music and song was then enjoyed until the midnight hour. The committee having the arrangements in charge, Messrs. Taylor Kussmaul, Clem Cole, Jas. McGonagle and Harry D. Hale, was highly complimented for the success of the affair.

GRANVILLE

(Special to The Advocate.)
Granville, Dec. 12.—Music lovers of the community suffered a keen disappointment Tuesday evening when, instead of the delightful concert by the Culp String Quartet, the first of the Festival Music Course, they learned that a telegram received at 6 o'clock by Director Eschman had announced the postponement of the concert, because of four hours' delay in the only train which it was possible for them to take out of Cincinnati. On account of the severe cold, however, the delay was felt less than it would have been under ordinary conditions. To be sure, under ordinary circumstances it would not have occurred. Ticket holders will be notified and those who failed to reserve their seats on account of the extreme weather conditions, can do so at their convenience by calling at Ullman's for this engagement will certainly be kept at a later date.

The Christmas gifts from the public school children solicited by the Travelers' club women to be sent to the Home Hospital in New York for the benefit of the 300 children who are not to receive any Christmas this year at their homes, were assembled in the Baptist church Tuesday afternoon, and the consignment of beautiful toys, the expression of a beautiful spirit of helpfulness was carefully packed by Mrs. Ella Fraker and Mrs. W. E. Clemons, and sent by express this morning.

The A. F. F. W. headquarters were warm and cheerful all day Tuesday and many hands made light work of the hospital and civilian supplies which are turned out each week with increasing efficiency. Mrs. Odebrecht reported the organization of a new auxiliary at the home of Mrs. R. D. Williamson last Saturday afternoon when a number of the women of that neighborhood assembled at her home for work. Coffee and sandwiches were served by the hostess, and much valuable work is listed by the president, Mrs. Biggs, each week, and the record preserved by the secretary.

Mrs. Theodore Johnson, secretary of the Red Cross unit, read an interesting letter received from Rev. L. P. Franklin, chairman of the Licking County Chapter of the National War Council of the Red Cross, which is given below:

"The National War Council of the Red Cross has ordered a nationwide campaign for increased membership. Ten million additional members to the Red Cross is the goal set. 'Every American home a Red Cross home' is our pledge of loyalty to our country. Thirteen thousand members is the minimum quota for Licking county. * * * It has been decided to let the school children of the county do patriotic work and make this their Christmas gift to the Nation. Tuesday afternoon, December 18th, is the time set for the canvass. We ask you to urge the school authorities in your township to dismiss school on that afternoon and see that the children visit the homes and secure every member of the home for the Red Cross. Red Cross service flags will be sent you to be distributed to the families which have become members, a small red cross for each individual member of the family joining, will be placed upon the flag. If every member in the family becomes a member, a white star will mark the center of the large Red Cross. The flags to be placed in the front window on Christmas eve at 7:30 p. m. all over the United States. A candle will be lighted behind it, symbolizing the spirit of Christ shining out through the Red Cross in its manifold works of mercy in a war stricken world."

Arthur Williams of Warren is visiting at the home of his sister, Mrs. Everett Johnston on Broadway. Mrs. Williams enlisted with the Canadian regiment in August, 1916, and has seen hard service at the front. He returns with an honorable discharge, on account of serious wounds, which make further active service impossible.

Mrs. Clara M. Ogden has been enjoying a visit this week from her brother and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Moore of Newark.

Lieutenant and Mrs. Shinn, Mr. and Mrs. George Upson and Miss Grace Fulton of Newark were guests of "Oak-dene" in East Broadway, Sunday evening.

J. S. Jones has been a stay-at-home for the past few days at Bryn Du, his home on the Newark road, by reason of a troublesome cold. He is ready, however, to face the weather once more.

Several Camp Sheridan soldier boys are expected in Granville for Christmas.

Dennis University is preparing a roster of all her men in the service of Uncle Sam and the new National army.

A large attendance is expected at the meeting of the W. C. T. U. to be held on next Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. E. Cochran in South Pearl street. A Christmas program and the reception of new members will be features of the afternoon, beginning at 2 o'clock.

The Conservation lectures to have been given tomorrow at noon, at 3:30, and at 7:30 by Miss White of the Home Economics department of O. S. U., have been postponed on account of serious illness in the family which has called Miss White to Chicago.

BOYS AND GIRLS TO WORK TUESDAY
FOR RED CROSS

Twenty-two hundred school boys and girls above the fifth grade of the Newark schools are to make the Red Cross drive for membership next Tuesday afternoon.

Their success not only means much to the great organization they will represent but will mean even more to themselves. In hundreds of instances it will be the boy's or girl's first business experience and it is up to the people to say whether it will be a failure or a success.

Do not put the child off by saying you are now a member of the Red Cross because the fact is your membership expires Dec. 31st, just like an automobile tag. You must have a 1918 card to be in good standing. The cost is one dollar and the money is for the protection of our soldier boys.

One can not use his money to better advantage than to help the Red Cross, and to aid the government in winning the war by buying Liberty bonds, Thrift stamps and the Savings Certificates.

The Newark boys and girls are determined to make next Tuesday's campaign a success. Already many of them are obtaining pledges.

No one need hesitate to give his membership to a boy or girl. The teachers are in charge of the card distribution and it is so arranged that no mistakes will occur.

Encourage the Newark boys and girls in their great patriotic effort next Tuesday. Let everybody renew his or her Red Cross membership and let those who were not members in 1917 obtain 1918 cards from the school children. We must win the war and we must take care of our boys who are going out to fight for us. Join the Red Cross.

TROTZKY DISMISSES
RUSS AMBASSADORS

(Associated Press Telegram)
Petrograd, Dec. 12.—Leon Trotsky, the Bolshevik foreign minister, has issued a decree dismissing all Russian ambassadors and their staffs because they ignored the Bolshevik demand that they denounce the Kerensky government.

"We have declared them deprived of all further rights and pensions," Trotsky said.

TRANSFER OF LOCAL BOYS AT CAMP SHERMAN

Changes are being made nearly every day in Battery B of the 24th I. E. A. at Camp Sherman, and several Newark men are being transferred. Among those discharged this week is Hiram C. Baughman, Battery B 22nd I. E. A., who lives in Newark township, failed to file his exemption papers in time, and although married went to camp. His claim has been acknowledged now and he was released.

The family of Mrs. and Mrs. Ben Baizer of Elmwood avenue on Tuesday evening at 6:30 received a telegram from their son Howard, with Battery B saying "Have been ordered to Texas. Cannot come home. Come down if you can. His father and brother Charles left this morning for California to spend the remainder of the time with him before he leaves for the south."

Joseph Annarino received a telegram from his son Victor, Monday night, saying: "I am on my way to Augusta, Ga. Will write when I reach there."

Accompanying Annarino was Carl Fisher also a member of Battery B from Gratiot. They were sent south as truck drivers.

RED CROSS MEMBERSHIP
CAMPAIGN IS IN CHARGE OF THE SCHOOL CHILDREN

The War Council of the Red Cross has proclaimed a nationwide campaign for memberships during the Christmas season. The quota assigned for the Licking County Chapter is 12,000 members.

The Executive Committee of the local chapter has decided to put the campaign in the hands of the school children. It has authorized them to solicit the memberships as their patriotic work and to collect a dollar from each one who joins. The school authorities have set aside Tuesday afternoon, December 18, as the time for a complete canvass of the city. Every home in the city will be visited by the school children and every member of the home will be asked to become a member of the Red Cross. The child will be given a dollar and sign the membership card.

Every American Home a Red Cross Home. The memberships terminate Dec. 31, 1917. The dollar pays for the year 1918.

ITCHING IRRITATION
EASILY CURED

When you suffer with any skin troubles, even though the itching seems unbearable, do not think that it is necessary to use some disgusting, greasy ointment. Try Hokara, a pure and simple cream, that is guaranteed to contain no grease or acids and which is so cleanly that it does not soil the linen.

Its power to instantly relieve any irritation of the skin and make it soft, white and beautiful is almost miraculous.

Not only do minor skin troubles like pimples, blackheads, acne, barber's itch, etc., quickly disappear, but the worst ulcers or cases of salt rheum or eczema are cleansed and healed by this wonderful skin food.

In order that any one may try Hokara at small expense, Evans' Cut-Rate Drug store is selling a liberal sized jar at 35c, and in addition, guarantee to refund the money if the treatment does not do all that is claimed for it.—(Advertisement).

THE PACIFIST POSITION.

A man who holds an influential position in the educational world, but who entertains pacifist views, was recently asked what he would do if the Germans came over, invaded our territory, and killed our people.

"Oh," he said, "let them come. Even if they do kill a few, we have 100,000,000 people, and there will be plenty left."

This man's point of view was not quite so indifferent as these words suggested. He sincerely believed that the only way to impress moral ideas is through appeals to the sense of reason and justice. He does not think that moral truth can be conveyed by bullets. He has faith to believe that the heart even of an enemy can be softened by such appeals.

A very pretty theory. The Russian people, who are now showing their pacifist tendencies, have acted on it many years. They know the rule of their czar was corrupt and cruel. Yet they submissively obeyed him and their appeals for justice and human rights were unheeded. Their best men were shut up in prison or starved in remote Siberia. The progress of their country was set back 200 years, and the czar's government only fell when it was too rotten to last a day longer.

Human history shows that right and justice have to stand up and fight sometime. Freedom did not come because tyrants voluntarily granted it. It came because patriots found tyranny intolerable, and preferred to die rather than submit. It has taken many wars to secure the liberty we now enjoy.

The pacifists enjoy that same gift of liberty and free speech, but they don't do their share to maintain it and pass it on. They are living in a dream world contrary to all experience, and the prevalence of their views would set the world back a century.

FEED THE BIRDS.

Feed the wild birds. Their natural food supply is now under the show and the intense cold is fast using up their vitality. We will need the birds next spring and summer to help protect our war gardens, our wheat, corn, potatoes, and all growing vegetable foods from ravenous insects.

Feed them seeds, scraps, suet. If you do not have a feeding board, then clear the snow from a small spot on the south side of a building and scatter the feed there. Now is the time the farmer needs to feed "Bob White."

The home without a food conservation card owes the neighborhood an apology.

EARLY BUYING.

The Christmas-gift custom is a very charming one if handled with some common sense and consideration for those who serve us. But if millions of people wake up about one week before the holiday to the fact that the usual gifts must be purchased and sent, the simultaneous burden of work thus created makes a lot of trouble.

As a result of this identical impulse, the people all at once, in what might seem like an attack of popular hysteria, begin to throng the stores. In some of them the rush becomes a jostling mob as the day approaches. The tired clerks show that the holiday is not one of peace on earth and good will to them.

Then comes a grand scrimmage to do up the packages and send them by mail and express. All over the country offices and railroad cars and teams are suddenly swamped by several times their usual business. The employees work many hours overtime, under conditions of strain and worry. They look forward to Christmas as the most unhappy time of the year.

We don't give any too much for Christmas, only we give injudiciously. The purchase of Christmas gifts on the part of those who have any money ahead, should be made all through the year as one sees suitable articles. Or, at least, it should begin early in December and should be concluded a week or two before the holiday. Packages should be gotten off at that time by mail and express.

Then the last week might well be left to people who are hard-up for money and can't anticipate their wants if the strain could be distributed in this way, the occasion would impose no great hardship on anyone, and a great deal of happiness would be given.

TOWN-BOOSTER SIGNS.

People who travel much by automobile remark on the large number of towns that erected town-booster signs at their boundaries along the motor roads, to inform the traveler where he is and what the town has to say for itself. In many places also they are erected near railroad stations.

Different ideas, somewhat illustrative of town-temperament, are worked out in putting up these notices. Some are quite simple and convey merely the idea of a welcome to a stranger. They may only say "Welcome to ———," and on the reverse side, "Come again."

Some towns have gorgeous and spread signs that do not always produce the effect intended. They say something like this: "Prosperous Podunk, the Pride of America and Paradise of Homes." If the stranger passing through never heard of the place before, that doesn't convince him much. Other places give a very brief statement of the industries and features of the town, which is the best way to do it from the advertising viewpoint.

Such signs need to be lettered neatly and kept freshly-painted, or they do more harm than good. They should not be too bold and staring or they create the disagreeable impression that is made by billboards, and are open to the objection felt by the public to outdoor commercial advertising. But if put up with some taste, they give a stranger passing through the information he would like to have, and they must help a town to extend its reputation.

It might be remarked that when a town has very poor roads to jolt the tourists, it doesn't do a bit of good to invite him to visit the town again. He recalls it as a place that does not keep up its highways, and avoids it next time he goes on a pleasure trip.

LUXURY TRAVEL.

The argument has been advanced before the interstate commerce commission on hearings for increased railroad rates, that the roads are carrying too cheaply certain classes of luxury travel. It is urged that many sleeping, parlor and dining cars are being hauled when the roads get little additional revenue out of them—perhaps none at all. When a heavy car is hauled over the road, there is an additional cost

RUSSIA AND THE ALLIES.

(New York World.)
It has been said of the American people that their political genius is such that they can make any system of government workable. It might be said of the Maximist commissioners who are now in control of Russia that their political ignorance is such that no system of government in their hands would be workable.

Men who have had no practical relation to government, who know nothing about the administration of public affairs, who are without honor or ideals or even a sense of public shame, are to establish a new heaven and a new earth by the simple process of overturning all existing institutions.

If it were not one of the greatest of all political tragedies it would be one of the greatest of all political comedies.

Yet, what is to happen in Russia when the day of awakening dawns? That will come soon and there will be a Russia that is face to face with actual starvation—a Russia that is without food, that is without transportation, that is without industry and that will soon be without a sense of responsibility. The stage is set for a terrible drama of blood and slaughter in which men will be bled only by their most primitive instincts.

It is reported by the Paris correspondent of the World that the inter-allied conference will not try to agree upon a definite diplomatic policy to be pursued toward Russia. No argument is necessary to demonstrate the necessity of such action. Russia cannot be abandoned either to Germany or to anarchy. It cannot be abandoned either to Germany or to anarchy. It cannot be left as a continuing menace to the peace of the world after the war is ended. Some kind of solution of the Russian problem is essential to the welfare of world democracy, and it must be found, whatever the obstacles may be.

Russia is now a military, economic and political liability to the allies, but it is a liability that must be carried. It cannot be written off the books and the losses pocketed that have already been incurred. If the world is to be made safe for democracy, a self-governing Russia must emerge from this Bolshevik welter, and that can come only with the help and encouragement of Great Britain, France and the United States.

The temporary supremacy of the Lenins and the Trotsky's is a lost battle, but it is not a lost campaign.

WAR WITH AUSTRIA.

(Philadelphia Record.)
In declaring war against Austria-Hungary Congress not only carries out the popular wish, in so far as this may be judged by the almost unanimous action of its representatives, but it also takes a step demanded by the logic of military events. So long as Austrians and Germans are fighting together against Italy and the other Entente allies, the situation calls for a recognition of facts as they are. If we were not at war with Austria it is difficult to see how General Pershing's response to Italy's request for reinforcements nor how we could consistently conduct operations against Austria if these should be sent to Germany's aid in France. With a declaration of war there will be no opening for such embarrassing situation.

Austria's Government has in many ways furnished the justification for the step just taken. There is no doubt that Austrian submarines operating in the Mediterranean previous to our break with Germany last April sank American vessels and killed American citizens, and this practice has continued wherever the opportunity for such destruction presents itself. No satisfaction for these outrages has ever been given, also that the Austrian consular service maintained in this country since the breaking off of diplomatic relations by the dismissal of Dr. Dumba has in some instances formed the agency by which Teutonic intrigues have been carried on here. How far this alien influence has been responsible for plots against our industries and pro-German agitation only the Secret Service knows. From the revelations made previous to Dr. Dumba's departure it is not an unreasonable inference that this hostility has been responsible for much unrest and many disturbances. During a state of war it can be effectively curbed.

There has never been in America that animosity against Austria-Hungary which German brutality has kindled. Both Austrians and Hungarians are less aggressive people than the Germans and much less disposed to make trouble, especially against this country. Unfortunately, they have allowed their country to sink to the condition of a vassal to Germany. They must, therefore, sink or swim with their master. In this case the United States will help them sink. By their subservience to the Kaiser they have brought this penalty upon themselves, and they alone will be responsible for the consequences.

EARNING THRIFT STAMPS.

(Ohio State Journal.)
For boys to buy Thrift stamps with their own earnings would be one of the finest experiences that could be imagined. There would be no worldly honor that would be higher. It would be a college diploma, vocational training or a trip around the world. It would disclose in the boy the spirit to amount to something and a zeal to do the possible, even though he fails. The divinest thing in one is the intuitive nature and there could be no finer exercise of it than for a boy to buy a Thrift stamp with his own earnings. The very effort would put him on the high road to success. Let us hope many of our boys will undertake this duty with a controlling, steady purpose. We hope some day to publish a whole column of these winners, not for vanity's sake, but because it is inspiring information.

Spirit of the Press

The College Professor.

What a part the college professor is playing in the great war! President Wilson, as we all know, was for twenty years a teacher at Princeton. Premier Poincaré of France was a professor of mathematics at the University of Paris until the war broke out; Premier Orlando of Italy was professor of law at Palermo; and Hertling, the new German Chancellor, is a famous authority on Aristotle, and was a professor of philosophy first at Bonn and then at Munich.—Youth's Companion.

Sav. Old Papers.

The programs, newspapers, lunch rappers, etc., picked up by the park employees after the first two games of the world's series at Chicago weighed 7500 pounds. They produced 71 bales and sold for $30.—Ohio State Journal.

What "Boche" Signifies.

Boche (pronounced bosh, with broad o) is French slang, a nickname applied to the Germans. It is an abbreviation of the French word, boche, a short nail with a large head, and as applied to the Germans means an obstinate, pigheaded person. It was used in familiar speech long before the war began.—Indianapolis News.

Bolsheviki Peace.

The resignation of three members of the staff of the Russian embassy in Washington in order to avoid any semblance of allegiance to the Bolshevik government, was entirely unnecessary. The more reasonable attitude is that of Ambassador Bakhmeteff, who has notified Secretary Lansing that he repudiates the mob that has set itself up as the Russian government, and which, he very reasonably predicts, will not last more than a few days at the longest. It is one of the incongruities of German diplomacy that a government controlled and dominated by the military with no consideration for the common people, should enter into negotiations for peace with the Russian element that proposes that persons with property and of good social standing shall have no voice in the affairs of government.—Memphis News-Schmitt.

Pacifism Not Dead Yet.

The organization that calls itself the People's Council, although its inspiration is entirely German, has announced the slogan, "Peace by negotiation—now!" and that "it will be pointed out to members of Congress that the democratic tide is rising in all parts of the world" and that the insistence that the war be ended by a "people's peace" is growing stronger every day." How the war can be ended by a "people's peace" while Germany remains in the grip of autocracy is not, of course, explained. Such trifles never trouble the minds of those who consciously or unconsciously act as catpaws for German propaganda.—Rochester Democrat and Chronicle.

SUEZ CANAL IS 43.

(Chicago Journal.)
One of the greatest engineering projects of the world, the Suez canal of Egypt, was formally opened 43 years ago. The canal cost $160,000,000. The festival given by the khedive in commemoration of the opening of the canal cost $22,000,000, or a fourth as much as the canal. Cairo was early decked for the event, which was attended by the emperor of Austria, the empress of France, and many other high personages. The engineering work of the canal was under the direction of the great French engineer, De Lesseps. The canal is 33 miles long and has been widened to accommodate the larger ships of today.

SUBBEN DEATH OF MRS. M. R. SCOTT IN WEST LOCUST ST.

Mrs. Milton R. Scott dropped dead this morning at the family home in West Locust street, about five minutes after 8 o'clock. She had prepared breakfast and Mr. Scott was leaving the house when he turned and noticed that his wife was about to fall. He reached her side in time to break the same and Dr. H. H. Postle was called, but Mrs. Scott never regained consciousness and expired shortly after the attack, evidently from an attack of heart trouble.

Mrs. Scott's maiden name was Eliza A. Pant, and she was born in Hull, England, February 9, 1848, coming to America when 11 years of age, and settling in Delaware, O., moving to Newark in 1874. She was aged 70 years, and had she lived till April 9, 1919, would have celebrated her golden wedding anniversary. She has been a member of the First M. E. church for 40 years, and one of the adult Bible classes of the Sunday school is called the Eliza A. Scott class.

Mrs. Scott is survived by her husband, two sons, and two daughters—George S. of Meadville, Pa., Harry, Miss Helen and Mrs. Frank Neighor of this city. Three children died in infancy.

The funeral will be held from the First M. E. church, Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. L. C. Sparks officiating, and interment will be made in Cedar Hill cemetery.

SOCIAL EVENTS

SOCIETY EDITOR, AUTO 'PHONE 2122.

The Women's Auxiliary of the Council of Defense met at Taylor Hall yesterday afternoon. Representatives of a number of organizations, churches and clubs were present. Mrs. J. A. Mitchell who had attended the Y. W. C. A. War Council in Columbus last Friday, told freely of that meeting. Rev. L. P. Franklin spoke with earnestness of the Red Cross work, of the excellent work women had done and the great demands that would be made upon them undoubtedly. He explained the plan for the membership campaign and urged a hearty response to the appeal that will be made through the school children next Tuesday. Mrs. Ernest T. Johnson reported the state meeting of the Council of Defense held in Columbus last Thursday in the Senate chamber of the State House, where were gathered representatives from nearly every county in the state. Mrs. George Zimmerman presiding.

Every phase of the work of the War Council was intelligently and forcefully presented by the well chosen chairman. Quoting President Wilson, "This is no war for amateurs," Miss Logan who is enlisting nurses for service and to fill the ranks of those "who have gone across" said we have the mistakes of England and Canada to profit by. She pleaded for the educated and cultivated women to enter training and that the requirements for training be not lowered.

Mrs. Hanford for the Red Cross work urged more efficient work and a greater increase of output. Doctor Hollingshead spoke feelingly of the child welfare work of the great importance of the pre-natal as well as the pre-school and the school period.

Mrs. Mulhauser gave interesting statistics of women's work for the Liberty loan, asking co-operation in every home. Miss Edna White presented the Food Conservation work. She said "the housewife's food card owed the neighborhood an apology and that food conservation and the use of substitutes should be the highest ambition of every woman. Very soon, more meatless and wheatless days will be asked for and only by making a study of the work can they be met intelligently."

The local conditions were discussed and it was gratifying to know that some of the committee work is under way in Newark. Reference was also made to a comprehensive article in the December Century Magazine on the Councils of Defense.

The marriage of Miss Edwina Glenn, daughter of Major General Glenn of Camp Sherman, to Captain James A. Garfield will take place January 1 at the Red Cross community house at Camp Sherman by Rev. John T. Dallas of Waterbury, a friend of Captain Garfield. There will be no cards. Guests will include friends of the families and officers of Camp Sherman and their wives.

Mrs. Louise Glenn Cole, sister of the bride-to-be and wife of Major O. R. Cole, will be matron of honor. Miss Elizabeth Glenn will be maid of honor, and Captain Newell Garfield, brother of the bridegroom, will be best man.

The Elks will entertain with the second dancing party of the winter series of Thursday evening of this week at the Elks' social emporium. Each member of the club is privileged to invite another man and his guest to the dancing party.

Mrs. Phillips of Hoover street entertained the Social Welfare club on last meeting day. A contest was held in which Mrs. Davidson and Mrs. Steinway were awarded the prizes and Mrs. Legg the guest prize. Mrs. Richardson gave a number of selections on the piano, after which a dainty lunch was served.

The club will meet with Mrs. White in Pennycuik avenue December 19 and a Christmas box will be arranged for the members.

A few of the friends of Lieutenant and Mrs. L. P. Shinn gave a charming little surprise party on them at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Heisey, Tuesday evening. The event was informal in every way and a picnic supper was served. The guests were: Lieutenant and Mrs. Shinn,

They were married July 7, 1916, and plaintiff charge gross neglect of duty and failure to provide. She further alleges he made her reside with his people and that they made her unwelcome. She asks for divorce and restoration to former name of Goldie Farrell.

Intensive Farming Aids England. For a thousand years and more wheat has been a staple crop in Great Britain; a few hundred years measure the period of wheat growing in Canada, and in parts of Canada—the naturally fertile valley of the St. Lawrence, for instance—the growing of wheat has practically been abandoned because the yield is not large enough to make it pay. Great Britain is an old country, its fields have been cropped for more than ten centuries. Canada is a new country, much of its soil having been first filled by its present occupiers; but in Great Britain the average yield of wheat per acre is almost 32 bushels, whereas in Canada it is only 20 bushels. The climate is in Canada's favor; intensive farming is in Britain's, and the result is 11 bushels an acre more.

Red Blood and Courage! (By Dr. W. C. Lucas.) What drives the men right up to the trenches in this war is courage, and it's red blood that puts the heart in the men. Did any one ever see a puny, thin-blooded man ever running into the fight with a chance of winning out? With strong red blood you can face any hardship, reach any goal. But you are handicapped in the race of life without it. Every tissue, bone, muscle, should take from the blood certain materials and return to it the waste. When the poisons accumulate in the blood, perhaps the face breaks out in pimples, or boils appear on the neck, and we feel languid, tired, our vitality is at a low ebb, and we easily catch cold. It's time to take an alternative, extract and blood-purifier taken from Nature's forests. Such a one is made up of Golden Seal, Blood and Stone root, Oregon Grape and Queen's root—extracted with glycerine and made into sugar-coated tablets or liquid, and this has been sold by druggists for the past fifty years as Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.

SUGAR RIDGE, Ohio. "I wish, like thousands of others, to add my testimony in praise of Dr. Pierce's medicines. In the spring of 1915 I was afflicted with a hard winter I found myself a wreck for a man of 30. My appetite was gone, blood was thin and watery and rheumatism had taken hold of me. I tried various remedies but they gave me no very little relief. I bought two bottles of the 'Pierce's Peppermint' and two bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and in one week my aches were gone, constipation was relieved and in a short time I was feeling like a new man. Since then I feel much better and many people of the value of Dr. Pierce's medicines and will continue to do so, as I know by experience they are all that they are advertised to be."—ALBERT A. BLAINE, CLEVELAND, Ohio.

From the time I was a small child I suffered with bilious sick-headaches. I would be so bad at times when I was attending school I would have to come home and go to bed. I took many different medicines but did not get any relief until I began taking Doctor Pierce's Pleasant Peppermint. This medicine completely cured me and I have never had any return of the ailment. I can recommend 'Pleasant Peppermint' to those who suffer as I did."—Mrs. E. J. Mason, 4613 Tillman Ave.

MRS. BURNS IS AWARDED STOCKS OF CHAS. GOSSER

Coshocton, Dec. 12.—Mrs. Fannie N. Burns of Cleveland is entitled to $100,000 worth of stocks willed to her by the late Charles Gosser of Coshocton, president of the Populizer china company. This decision was handed down by the Ohio Supreme court.

The judgment of the Fifth district court of appeals is sustained by the Supreme court in this decision, while the decision of Judge James Glenn of the Coshocton county common pleas court is reversed. This decision of the state supreme court brings to a conclusion the litigation which followed the probating of the will of the late Charles F. Gosser. Action to break the will was brought by brothers of the testator.

TO KEEP SKIN HEALTHY, YOUTHFUL, WRINKLELESS.

Now that the social season is here, be especially careful to keep your skin in fine condition. You know how conspicuous complexion defects appear under the bright lights of the drawing room or ball room. Also how very evident are some makeup when similarly illumined. I have myself discarded cosmetics entirely, using a process which gives far better results, and which leaves no trace on the skin. At night I smear on a thin coat of ordinary mercurized wax, washing it off next morning. This gradually absorbs the de-vitalized particles of surface skin; just as gradually, a more youthful skin beneath comes forth, providing complexion as clear, smooth and delicately tinted as a young girl's. Get an ounce of mercurized wax, and try this remarkable treatment.

Remember, too, that wrinkles, even the finer lines, are not easily concealed in a brilliantly white and rosy complexion. You can quickly obliterate these hateful marks by bathing your face in a solution of powdered exfoliate, one ounce dissolved in witch hazel, one-half pint. And your face won't look sticky, as after using pastes. Ask Sarah in Woman's Realm—Advertisement.

OBITUARY

Dog Days.

Dog days is the name applied to the hottest season of the year at the time of the heliacal rising of Sirius, the dog star; that is, the time when it rose just before the sun. They usually lasted for about 40 days. We still retain the expression of dog days, as applied to the hottest season of the year, but owing to the procession of the equinoxes it is no longer the time of the heliacal rising of the dog star. The time of dog days dates from the time when Sirius rises at the same time as the sun. Because of the procession of the equinoxes, this time comes earlier every year by 20 minutes, 20 seconds. The almanac makers of today in this, as in many other cases, cater to the old-time superstitions of the ignorant, and mark the dog days. Some of them reckon the dog days from July 24 to August 24, the time of greatest heat in summer; in the United States; others date them from July 3 to August 11.

Children's Belief in Fairies.

To the children fairies stand for all the wonderful and unpredictable possibilities of life, for all the magic of it, its charm of unexpectedness. A child is a bit puzzled by the inevitable; in the fairy world it does not exist. In that world he slips away from the world of grown-ups, with its endless consequences remorselessly bounding the gay, irresponsible little child doings. He loves the grown-ups and it is not from them that he wishes to escape, but from their world, their difficult, unyielding world. — Popular Science Monthly.

Our Boys and Girls

The less noise a baby hears, the less he is carried about and played with for the first six months of his life, the better it will be for him. It is seldom necessary to take him from his crib except for his bath and meals. The habit of taking him about and trotting him on your knees makes him nervous and wakeful and cannot possibly do him any good. His undeveloped system calls for rest, yet he is often denied that privilege. It is during sleep that the building up forces work without interruption and the child gains in flesh and strength. Have regular hours for his sleeping and see that everything is favorable for sleep at those times. There should be no light hands, during sleep, to hinder his respiration. Place his crib in such a position that the light will not shine directly upon his face, preferably in a quiet corner of the room. Do not cover him too warmly. Change his position occasionally as he will be apt to sleep longer.

Milady's Boudoir

Cleansing the Interior. The interior of your body should be thoroughly cleansed, just as regularly as we take our daily shower or sponge and are more luxurious beauty baths. First, the mouth. As good children we were taught to brush our teeth, and—I hope—to use dental floss, so that no tiny fragments of food might lodge between the teeth. But if we are to have a sweet, pure mouth, we must wash out our mouth as well. A three percent solution of boric acid is, perhaps, the most cleansing wash we could use, and the simplest, besides being excellent for the teeth. Wash the mouth out twice a day with this. In addition to brushing the teeth and using the solution and floss carefully to the end of an orange stick. The throat, in such cases, should be gargled with half a pint of the solution. If there is a catarrhal condition existing you need an atomizer and should spray the nasal passages and throat with an oil spray three times a day. In spraying the throat inhale constantly, so that the spray may reach the larynx. In spraying the nose use the nozzle of the atomizer, a nose guard which comes with most atomizers, so that you may insert the nozzle in the nostril without injury to the delicate membrane. Wash out the lining of the eyelids each morning and night with the same solution of boric acid as for the mouth. Use an eye cup to apply this.

RED CROSS IS DOING A GREAT WORK IN FRANCE

Davison Receives Report of Activities of Organization.

GIVES 5,000,000 F. TO NEEDY

Twenty Dispensaries Established to Care for Resident Civilians—Supplies Furnished to 3,423 French Military Hospitals—Wrecked Villages Being Rebuilt—Hundreds of Children Cared For.

In response to a request by Henry P. Davison, chairman of the Red Cross war council, for a complete report on the work being carried on by the American Red Cross in France the following cable has just been received from the Paris headquarters of the American Red Cross:

"We have just completed a gift of 5,000,000 francs to needy sick and wounded French soldiers and needy families of soldiers.

"We have established twenty dispensaries in the American army zone to care for the resident civilians and to improve health conditions in that section before the coming of our troops.

"We are providing a dental ambulance at a port in France for the use of our soldiers and sailors, and have organized a nurses service for American army use.

"Our hospital distributing service sends supplies to 3,423 French military hospitals and is laying in a large stock for future needs; our surgical dressings service supplies 2,000 French hospitals and is preparing immense supplies for our own army.

Many Canteens Operated.

"We are operating at the front line, in co-operation with the French Red Cross, ten canteens and are preparing to establish twenty more.

"We are operating six canteens for use of French soldiers at important railway centers where we serve about 80,000 soldiers a day, and are planning many more.

"In Paris canteens, operated by us, with the French, we are serving enormous numbers of soldiers as they come, and go.

"We soon expect to have ready twelve rest stations for our own troops at important railway centers, also recuperation camps at suitable places for many of our soldiers.

"We are providing an artificial limb factory near Paris and special plants for the manufacture of splints and nitrous oxide gas.

"We have contracted for a movable hospital in four units, accommodating 1,000 men.

"A recreation in connection with hospitals and diet kitchens.

"A casualty service for gathering information in regard to wounded and missing, and a medical research bureau.

"Our work with the civil population covers mainly children refugees and tuberculosis.

"We have opened a children's refuge and hospital at a point in the war zone where several hundred children have been gathered to keep them away from danger of gas and shell fire.

Caring for Children.

"At another point among the wrecked villages we have established a medical center and a traveling dispensary to accommodate 1,200 children.

"We have undertaken extensive medical work for the repatriate children at Evian, about 500 of whom are daily returned from points within the German lines.

"We have also opened a hospital and convalescent home for these children at Evian, where we are also operating an ambulance service for the returning repatriates who are now coming in at a rate of 1,000 a day.

"We are about to establish infant welfare stations in connection with each dispensary in the nation-wide system planned by the Rockefeller foundation.

"We have taken over and are carrying on and developing an extensive tuberculosis work formerly in charge of Mrs. Edith Wharton, and other Americans.

"We are completing, for the French, an unfinished tuberculosis sanatorium near Paris, and are adding to the barracks erected by the city of Paris. This means adding 1,000 beds to those now available for tuberculosis patients.

"We are organizing a comprehensive health center in one of the departments of France.

"We are making arrangements on a large scale to help refugee families through the winter with clothing, beds and shelter, and for this work the entire devastated district of France has been divided into six districts with a resident Red Cross delegate in each, and warehouses have been established at four points to which are shipped food, clothing, bedding, beds, household utensils and agricultural implements.

Repairing Wrecked Villages.

"We are carrying on repair work in four villages in the devastated region to enable returned families to stay throughout the winter.

"We are co-operating with French agencies in various kinds of relief work in the principal agricultural centers in the devastated region, and are supplying portable houses for the use of the families which have returned to this region.

"We are providing barracks to assist in the work of training disabled soldiers, and we expect to establish for them experimental agricultural stations.

"We are organizing extensive work for relief of Belgians, both children and grown people, and in this connection, we are establishing warehouses near the Belgian front in order that we may be ready to assist the Belgians who may be liberated by a change in the fighting line.

"We are aiding the queen of Belgium in her work for the children, and are assisting in the support of hospitals and other work for relief of Belgian soldiers.

"In addition we are bringing a certain number of children from occupied Belgium into France where they may be cared for.

"To enable us to carry on our work we have established large central warehouses in Paris, and distribution warehouses at important points from the sea to the Swiss border. In these warehouses will be stored hospital supplies, food, soldiers comforts, tobacco, blankets and household goods, kitchen utensils, clothing, beds and other articles for relief.

"Two hundred tons of supplies are arriving in Paris daily, and 125 tons are being re-shipped to various branch warehouses.

Warehouse Capacity.

"Our total warehouse capacity is 100,000 tons, and the warehouse personnel at present numbers 125 men, many of whom are volunteers—American men of education and business training not eligible for military service.

"Our transportation department, with a personnel of about 400, handles our supplies and furnishes automobiles for use in our work. It has an organized force at every port in France, and is able to handle about 850 tons of supplies daily.

"We use 400 motor car vehicles, 250 of which are trucks of various sizes.

"In addition we are preparing to operate a motor bus line through Switzerland from Germany to the French border to aid in transportation of repatriates and exchanged prisoners.

"We operate seven garages and make all repairs on our own cars.

"Our transportation work is directed by men experienced in transportation work in America."

PLEASURE YACHTS NOW USED AS CARGO BOATS

Even a Racing Schooner Has Been Converted for British Trade.

The extraordinary rise in the price of ships has made it worth while to reconstruct almost anything that can float. A few days ago in England an old schooner of 315 tons register was sold for $17,000, while an ex-German bark, which took 160 days to reach Liverpool from Iquique, fetched $180,000, which was more than she had cost originally to build.

Three units of the once famous line of Glasgow clippers, Loch Mess, Loch Tay and Loch Katrine, are to be re-rigged, and so also is the well-known Macquarie, one of the fastest sailers of former days.

Many yachts are being transformed into trading vessels. The ex-Empress Eugenie's Thistle has been acquired for mercantile work. The iron steam yacht Dotterel of 214 tons, which was sold last May for $19,000, has been converted into a cargo boat and resold for $50,000.

S. B. Joel has bought the Marcherita for $60,000. This vessel was the fastest schooner in European waters. It was built specially to race against the German emperor's Meteor and during her racing career beat the Meteor and also Baron Krupp's Germania.

TUG OF WAR WINS FREEDOM

Dutch and German Sentries Use Russian as "Rope."

A comic incident reported from the frontier involved a Russian prisoner of war who was on the point of stepping from German on to Netherlands soil when he was grasped by a German sentry. A wrestle ensued.

The fugitive threw himself on the ground and lay with the upper part of his body in Holland and the other in German territory.

A Dutch sentry rushed to the Russian's help, seized him by the arms and pulled. The German soldier pulled at the Russian's legs in the opposite direction. The Russian began to kick, with the result that the Dutch frontier guard was able to haul him out of the "danger zone."

FAILED TO WASH SILK SHIRT

Wife Says That's Why Husband Drops Exemption Claim.

Her failure to wash his silk shirt is said by Mrs. Lee Jackson of Cincinnati to be the reason why Jackson withdrew his claim for exemption, which he had filed on the ground that he had a wife and child.

He said he and his wife had talked it over and decided it best to withdraw the claim. The wife denied this, and to the draft officials she said:

"On the day Lee withdrew his claim for exemption I had promised to wash his silk shirt. That morning, when I failed to do so, he became angered and decided to withdraw his claim."

CURED ME OF INDIGESTION, KIDNEY AND COLIC TROUBLES

Greenville, S. C., Man Says Acid Iron Mineral Cured Him Two Years Ago and He Hasn't Been Troubled Since.

GET PERMANENT RESULTS.

"As proof that most people only lack pure blood to feel well all the time, the following statement is published."

"I gradually began to weaken and before I knew it I was having pains in my back that made bending over a torture to me. Then I noticed that sleep was hard to get. I would sleep in fits and starts and my kidneys bothered me. Then my stomach started to rebel at favorite dishes and before I awoke to my condition I couldn't eat vegetables without being distressed and bothered the whole night through. My back was weak and pained me at times and cramps like the colic would attack me unless I was awfully particular what I ate," says a well known Greenville, S. C., cotton mill employee, H. A. Burdett.

"If our digestion isn't extracting nourishment and your blood being enriched as it should be doctors will tell you to do just as Mr. Burdett did. Continuing his statement, he said:

"A friend urged me to get busy and take some Acid Iron Mineral and before I had taken a fifty cent bottle I was immensely improved and after finishing that half dollar bottle I was cured. It absolutely cured me and that was two years ago and, not like when you take other medicines, I haven't been sick or bothered since. I can eat anything I want and never be troubled with it," declared this same man who sums up his experience with Acid Iron Mineral in these words: "It cured me of indigestion, colic and kidney trouble two years ago and I haven't been troubled since."

Get a bottle of this natural, highly concentrated medicinal iron which so many find unexcelled for the blood, digestion, kidneys and as a tonic to tone you up. Get a larger dollar size bottle of your nearest druggist.

JOINTS STIFF—CORDS DRAWN
WHEELED ABOUT IN CARRIAGE

Remarkable Experience of Miss Horton, Who Suffered Since 4 Years Old

Friends and neighbors can hardly believe that Gladys Horton is now able to move her arms and hands as well as anyone. No longer will she be pointed out as she walks with her arms bent at the elbows, as the girl who was unable to help herself and unable even to button her own coat. She now has full use of her joints and was enthusiastic when asked about her recovery. She said: "I don't know just where to begin. I have had rheumatism since I was four years old and it is a new experience for me to have the full use of my joints and be free of pain. I have been so helpless that I had to be wheeled in a small carriage, almost every joint in my body has been afflicted, my feet, ankles, knees, hands, arms and shoulders. I was unable to walk on account of the pain in my feet and knees. Helpless and in continued pain, dreading the night when I would have to be lifted bodily and dreading the days when I would have to be moved. I was unable to cut my food or feed myself and my arms were bent at the elbows, unable to get them away from my body. My fingers were drawn into the palms of my hands. "You can see I have full use of my hands and arms and my fingers have gone back to normal condition," she said, as she grasped the hand of the writer, at the same time demonstrating by her grip that she had considerable strength in her fingers. "I tried many different treatments, but they failed to help me. Finally friends of mine became interested and told me they would supply Var-ne-sis if I would take it. I had little confidence that it would help me, but decided to give it a trial anyway. I am glad I did, for today I am entirely free from rheumatism of the joints—haven't an ache or a pain—perfectly well. "It seems like a dream, but I must give Var-ne-sis that wonderful medicine all the credit. I wish other sufferers would gain by my experience—use my recipe, take Var-ne-sis and do not let up until they are well. "I would be glad to have anyone call on me or write my address, Gladys Horton, 15 Abbott street, W. Lynn, Mass. "Lizzie S. Watts, well known in Lynn, and employed at Lynn Post-office, has been greatly interested in Miss Horton's condition. She said: "Miss Horton was pronounced incurable by several of our best physicians. Her hands were misshapen, her lower limbs almost useless, while each moment of her life was one of suffering. Last week I called upon her, the first time I had seen her since she began taking Var-ne-sis, and what a change. "Shapely hands, lower limbs in perfect condition and a healthy flush on her cheeks. A well, merry hearted happy girl. All this change from taking Var-ne-sis. "I cannot say how pleased I am and how I thank you for your personal interest in her case. I find it hard even now to believe this girl is the same one I saw about a year ago, saved from a life of torture. She looks upon Mr. Varney as upon a Deliverer and told me she would pray for him every night of her life. Such gratitude one seldom finds and to her thanks I add my own." Miss Watts also would gladly answer any questions about the case. "Mary A. Lynch, who lives at the same address as Miss Horton said: "I have known Miss Horton for the past four years and watched her through her suffering. I can verify her statement as to her suffering previous to taking Var-ne-sis. She now looks to be in perfect health." Var-ne-sis has been wonderfully successful in the treatment of rheumatic arthritis or chronic rheumatism of the joints. No sufferer can afford to be without Var-ne-sis. It is helping hundreds regain their health the same as it has helped Miss Horton. Send to W. A. Varney, Lynn, Mass., for the "Rust of Human Hinges." It's free. Get Var-ne-sis. Now today, at R. W. Smith, druggist, and all reliable druggists.—Adv.

OUR BOYS PUZZLE TO FRENCH HOSTS

Californian Writes of Experiences "Over There."

MUCH THEY CANNOT TELL

Uncle Sam's Censorship Most Drastic Adopted by Any Nation—Whistling of Americans Annoys the French Soldiers—Campaign Hats Are the Vogue in Paris Fashionable Circles.

A Californian soldier with the American forces in France gives his experiences and observations in an interesting letter to the folks at home: "My Dear —

"I have before me, as a precaution, a two-page digest of a new eight-page order, outlining the censorship restrictions. It is an impressive document. Uncle Sam, though a novice in the game of doing something without letting the world know about it, has gone his belligerent associates one better than they ever thought of. This, I suppose, because of the comparative ease with which a spy otherwise could operate in the American army.

"The new order is the most drastic ever adopted by any nation and a blow to the Sammie ambitions to tell 'em about it. It embodies an ocean of 'don'ts' and not a single 'do,' and one is wont to wonder, after a first perusal, what the deuce he can write about. I was puzzled myself until I got the knack of sticking to generalities. A good way to fill up white paper, also, is to devote two or three paragraphs to telling the folks that you can't tell them anything, and why.

"Sorted, and alphabetically arranged these 'don'ts' run from A to — After reading down through 'H' and 'T' the newcomer finally decides to sit down and write, merely, 'I am well.' All references or opinions to present or future whereabouts, work or operations is prohibited. The mention of troops in connection with any particular place is forbidden. And this is carried even to military correspondence. I am told, the addresses reading merely Regiment So and So, A. E. F., three initials which will be used a lot in the next few months—or years. Postcards, both of the picture variety and those with messages on them, are taboo. Other subjects I can't discuss are: Information concerning casualties, unless they've been officially announced; the effect of hostile fire, all information about aircraft and the condition, moral or physical, of our own or allied troops. And, what is more, no criticism of any sort will be allowed of our own officers or those of the allies. So I can't, for instance, tell you what I think of my corporal. As a matter of fact, however, I haven't got one. I'm the clerk of my company, and spend most of my day fighting the Germans with a typewriter—no casualties yet. I felt no conscientious pangs about being armed with so innocent a weapon as a typewriter, however.

More Than Guns Needed.

"There are many things besides guns which figure in this war. Over here, the side rule, the surveyors' transit, the cross-cut saw, the electrician's pliers, are a few that are as honorable as the Krag, and the baker and the cook, the dentist and the barber, the store clerk in the quartermaster's, and the cobbler, the track layer and the road builder, all are useful—and essential—in their place. And their work is regarded as being as honorable as that of the man who goes down into the first line trenches. Or, rather, will go down.

"There is a lot of speculation as to when Uncle Sam will start things. Every soldier has an ear open for the latest rumor—and there is one every few minutes—and a deep curiosity as to the immediate future of his troop, but there is no answer to the question, 'When do we go?' And the constant repetition of this question has had but one result, a special order, prohibiting the discussion of probabilities as to when we will take over a stretch of line. It is a punishable offense for an officer to debate with his men, for example, the question. Of one thing only am I certain—that the United States will not start until everything is ready. I used to think that all an army had to do was to march up to the firing line and go to it, but this trip has produced realization of the elaborate preparation necessary before we even begin to fight. There must be hospitals behind the lines, manned by nurses and doctors and attendants; railroads to convey troops and food, automobiles, bakeries, bath houses, laundries and a hundred other things, and all these must be in readiness before the actual fighting begins. There must be a pretty efficient organization perfected merely as a preliminary. And that is why there is a dignity to the man with the shovel, the ax and other tools I could enumerate. He already is at work while the fighter is waiting until the stage is set.

"The liquid refreshment question here is an interesting one. Of course, there is not even the hint of any liquid prohibition on the part of the French government. The French viewpoint would not even permit of a conception of such a thing. The Frenchman fights on wine. I ordered wine in a restaurant here one night, and created great excitement. "American drink water?" the waitress asked in amazement. Relaxation is Violent. "The American soldier arrives in France ripe for a 'time.' He has traveled in seclusion as near absolute as possible for from three to five weeks, and his first relaxation is usually rather violent. The policy followed, judging from my observation, is to give incoming soldiers as much liberty as reasonably possible with few rules of restraint. Then, as privileges are abused, restrictions are made. There is one town near here, for instance, in which members of the regiment are forbidden to drink. The government of troops thereby evolves into a sort of local option proposition—with the option in the hands of the commanding officer. Regiments are sometimes like individuals. They have a character of their own—and a reputation. And the limitation is that rules and orders will be applied, locally, as needed for special cases. The system, I believe, will work admirably. If a regiment should go too strong on the liquor, I suppose its drinking privileges could be taken away altogether.

"The policing, insofar as Americans are concerned, is in the hands of Americans. The United States soldier is answerable, at present, only to his commander. This was illustrated the other day, when an officer went down to the police station to see if he could get the police of a nearby French city to apprehend a member of his company who had written too well and forgot to return for two or three days. He finally got the plan through the head of the El Capitan de Police.

"What?" exclaimed that official (through an interpreter), "we arrest no one that fights for France!" "Hence Uncle Sam is doing his own policing. The marines are doing it here. There has been no trouble of any consequence, though. Once in a while the genuine and wholesome good will of the French gives way to exasperation at the strange demands of the Americans. The slight friction there has been is all due to differences of language and custom. This gives rise to many embarrassing situations. One I may cite.

Don't Like Whistling. "At a small town near where I was stationed a few days ago we were wont to gather in front of the emporiums for an evening for social purposes. A French soldier, train bound for the front, goes through every evening. Invariably the Americans greeted the Frenchmen with hearty cheers and whistling. The French at first appeared to be enthusiastic enough. That is, when the cheering began. Then they seemed to get tired and not infrequently they were suspected of calling us names. Come to find out, to whistle at a person is to insult him in this country, and the French thought we were hooting them. Result—an order against whistling. I remembered that in evening strolls when I had been absent-minded whistling, persons had looked at me rather strangely, with a kind of 'Are you doing that to me?' look on their faces.

"Then, too, we landed here with a splash. The Australian and the Canadian makes as much money as we do, but they don't know how to spend it. The American is the best spender on earth; I don't mean merely in the amount that he spends, but in the obviousness with which he distributes it. He seldom haggles, and it may be his last five-franc piece that he gives to the cabman for a two-franc ride, but he doesn't holler. He stopped in the best hotels and ate at the best restaurants. "I dined at the 'swellest' restaurant in the aforesaid nearby city one night. Present were two French generals, half a dozen lesser officers, a couple of English captains and six buck privates of the U. S. A. (with their coats off and hanging on a hook). This is a common sight. The 'advance reputation of the Americans and the way in which they have lived up to it caught the eye of French femininity—the abundance of which cannot be overestimated—and, I suspect, that naturally enough there was just a tinge of jealousy on the part of the Frenchman home from the trenches. Moreover, the American hasn't done anything yet—proven his steel, as it were. But that doesn't amount to much.

Hats Are in Demand. "The world of skirt is certainly ours, however. The Americans hadn't been here two months until society in Paris had adopted the American campaign hat for this season and the vogue has spread all over the country. A hat is worth a home any day. They sell at the quartermaster's for $1.04, and are as good as a widely advertised $5 brand in the States. But there have been so many 'lost' hats to be replaced that the A. M. has shut down here. A young lady with an American chapeau is the envy of the city.

"The wiles and the black hair and the smile and the eyes of the maiden are not luring in vain, however. A lot of the fellows will get married over here undoubtedly. That is, maybe. Nobody knows whether it will be permitted or not. I heard of one young fellow in another company, Robert J. Duncan of Denver, who announced his engagement, proud of the distinction of its being the first on this side. He was advised to wait until he got permission from the colonel. He hasn't received the permission yet, and I wouldn't be surprised if he came up to General Pershing for it.

AIR RAIDS TEACH
LONDON TO DIG IN

Sociability Is Increased as Zepps Arouse Conscience.

PLAN TO FOIL ATTACKS

Back-Yard Gardeners Now Turn Attention to Building Bomb-Proof Shelters—Hunt for Safety Brings to Light Many Curious Structures in London—Learn to Be Careful.

The Londoner's particular form of individual self-sufficiency is giving way to a new feeling of real social conscience. It has been a characteristic of the Londoner that he seldom knew more than the few people who came in touch with him in relation to his work or pleasures and the neighbors dwelling on either side of his residence.

Today one can safely say that this system of isolated existence has passed away. The air raids have changed his outlook. No longer has he a reserve that takes months to break down. He meets the neighbor who lives up the street and stops him for a discussion as to the best method of cover, the details of the nearest bomb-proof refuge, the result and powers of the high-explosive shell that was last dropped in the district and the never-ending question as to the best way of defeating the German alarmer.

In the days of the Zeppelin raids curiosity was the moving spirit. The resident of London or Greater London did not trouble about cover. He sought the point of vantage where it was possible, he could see the picture of the great gas bag outlined in the defenders' searchlights, and expressed freely his disappointment if it failed to come within his range of vision. Now he does very little star gazing, but makes for the best cover obtainable.

Learn to Be Careful. The details given at inquests on the victims of previous raids with the comprehensive instructions issued by the authorities have given him a new sense of the danger of carelessness. The instructions issued, which deal under different heads with action during raids; that cover the subject from taking cover to how to remove powder from unexploded bombs, unlike the usual official publication, make an easily understood document. It might almost be said to be the most lucid document ever issued by a government department. This has helped the Londoner to replace curiosity by caution.

It cannot truthfully be said that the Londoner is rattled, but it is obvious that he does not intend the Germans to win the war in the air if he can possibly help it, and with the aid of his fellow citizens he hopes to reduce the danger of raids to the absolute minimum possible.

Therefore the Londoner is studying cover and the resident of Greater London is digging, or rather sand bagging himself in. In practically every division the problem of shelter from bombs or shrapnel is a live subject. Many districts have a distinct shortage of decent cover, especially on the borders of London, where with the exception of the churches and public buildings there are few structures that could withstand a high-explosive bomb and few that would be a defense from an unexploded shell or large piece of shrapnel.

As a consequence London is learning to dig itself in, to make a bomb-proof shelter with sand bags and to utilize other articles having a defensive value.

Busy With Shovels. Many hundreds of Londoners have been working on the vacant lots during the earlier part of the year with the object of adding to the food supply of the country; their hard work with the spade and the hoe has taught them to dig successfully and many a snug dugout has been the result. Numbers of these can be seen around London.

The fortunate possessor of a house with a basement has found no lack of visitors since raid warnings have been issued, while houses possessing good cellars have been also used as havens of refuge.

The need of shelter has brought to light curious structures around London. During the last raid the police had to close a tube station owing to the number of people seeking shelter and directed the refugees to a neighboring tenement building. The visitors were conducted under the building and were astonished to find themselves in the garbage dump. The vaults under a great furniture depository made accommodation for over 1,800 people, who spent their enforced inaction sitting round in parties on old ledgers in the store. In the vaults of a factory bordering a canal several hundred people waited for the "All Clear" notice entirely unaware that the canal was running above their heads until they were dismissed by a door on the opposite side of the canal from which they entered the building.

In all these temporary shelters the accommodation has been granted under the rule "women and children first," and with the slight exception of comic among the foreign element discipline has been the rule and the special police have had little trouble in controlling the crowds.

At 103 She Does War Work. Mrs. Emily Hyams of Natchitoches, La., aged one hundred three, has registered for active war work. She is engaged in Red Cross and other war relief activities. All flesh is as grass, but it may not be as green as it looks.

The drugging weight of an unconfined bust so stretches the supporting muscles that the contour of the figure is spoiled.

put the bust back where it belongs, prevent the fall back from having the appearance of sagging, eliminate the danger of dragging muscles and confine the flesh of the shoulder giving a graceful line to the entire upper body.

They are the cleanest and most serviceable garments imaginable—come in all materials and styles: Cross Back, French Front, Surplice, Bandeau, etc. Banded with "Waifin," the rustless boning—permitting washing without removal.

MEMBERSHIP IN THE Y. M. C. A. WOULD MAKE A FINE CHRISTMAS GIFT

The Young Men's Christian Association is offering one of the best suggestions for a boy's Christmas gift, that we have yet heard. A membership in the Association would be a gift which would last the year through, and not break or lose its gloss. In these days of feverish war excitement we are prone to forget the activities of our times of peace, which brought permanent constructive results. Germany and Great Britain are notable examples of countries which let down on their constructive work in behalf of their youth; Canada is a notable example of a country which increased its efforts to build up and conserve its man power, by working harder than ever along the lines of the Y. M. C. A. Compare the record of juvenile crime in the three countries, and note the more than favorable comparison for Canada. To the end of interesting the boys and parents of Newark in the activities of the Association, they are having free gym classes on Wednesdays, from 4 to 5 o'clock, and all grade school boys are welcome. It is to be hoped that more people will wake to the fact that Newark supports a Young Men's Christian Association which is working day and night to build up the three-fold nature of boys and men.

RAYMOND PAULSEN IS ENJOYING LIFE SERVING IN FRANCE

The following letter has been received by Mr. and Mrs. John Paulsen of 162 James street, parents of John Raymond Paulsen, who is a private in Company B, 166th U. S. Infantry, A. E. F.

Paulsen was at Camp Mills with the Rainbow division, and left with the 166th for France. The following letter tells of the conditions as he finds them.

Dear Mother:—Just a few lines this evening to let you know that everything is all O. K. I am feeling fine, in fact I have never had a day sickness since coming to this country. We are now somewhere in France. We are billeted in the best of quarters that can be obtained under the circumstances. We are getting all we want to eat, in fact we are better fed than ever before. Now enough as long as I am well, getting enough to eat and a good place to sleep, there is no excuse for you to worry. As yet I have not heard from you but expect a letter at any time. I want you to write often and give me the news. The Advocate has not reached me yet. I expect by the time this reaches you it will be Christmas. I wish you all the best of Christmas and a happy New Year. I would like to send you a present but it is impossible at present, later if I can I will send you something. I just wish you and father were over here to see this country. It is a beautiful place but not as nice as we were in the spring. There are no fences but all the land is farmed. We Americans will have to give the French credit for knowing how to farm and to save.

The people are very nice and will do anything for us if we can make them understand. I am learning to speak French very fast and can understand quite a bit. It has been very nice weather lately we have not had any snow yet but is about time to commence. The farmers have all of their grain stored in the mow and have commenced threshing. This is quite interesting to me. They have those old-fashioned horsepower machines. One I saw is where the horses go around in a circle and the other is something like one of those old-fashioned dog churns, the horse has to

BIG TAN YARD ONCE OPERATED ON PUBLIC SQUARE

(By Edwin Haughey.)
The old Sixth Street cemetery when I first could remember, had a brick wall or fence on the south side, the other three sides being ingloshed by board fences. The entrance was with a double gate on the south side. No vehicles of any kind were allowed in the cemetery.

The city Hall stood in the center of West Main street at its junction with Third street which it faced. A drive way was on each side of the building. The first story was used for a market house and was open on all sides. There were brick pillars on which the second story was built; this was a frame structure in which the officers of the town had their offices. The town school was also held in the second story.

The Ohio House stood where the Scott building is now, opposite the present Y. M. C. A. building. It was built by Abraham Johnson, who was the father of Sally Johnson, the first white child born in Newark.

The Black Horse Tavern was where the Hibbert & Schauss building is now located. The B. & O. depot was in the rear of this building. Several years later a livery stable occupied this corner.

The Green House hotel stood on a bank where the Hotel Warden is at present located. It was a two-story brick.

The fair grounds were located west of North Fourth street, back of the present Welsh church. This also was the city show grounds where many one-ring circuses yawned.

There was a large tan yard on the present Roe Emerson corner that extended west to the present alley and south about as far as it wanted to go.

Saving the Teeth of Nation's Future Defenders

TOOTH BRUSH DRILL

Many Exemption Boards in Making Up National Army Have Wished School Nurses and Doctors Had Existed 20 Years Ago.

"Good morning! Have you brushed your teeth?"
This salutation is becoming familiar to school children in all parts of the country. In schools where the body is being educated in connection with the mind the child's teeth are considered of first importance.
While the teacher sees that her pupil advances intellectually, the school nurse sees that it develops physically. Her query on entering the classroom is not "Have you studied your lessons?" but "Have you brushed your teeth?"
Medical inspectors have discovered that vast armies of germs inhabit the mouths of school children. They have found that many of the ills which affect the child mentally and retard it in its studies may be traced to defective teeth. Therefore the campaign for clean teeth and teeth that are properly preserved by filling.
"Save the six-year molars and there will be little trouble afterward." This is the slogan of the dentists.
School nurses, therefore, are trying to preserve the molars. In schools where the nurse is in constant attendance the mouth of every child is given frequent examination.

The youngsters pass in review before the nurse with their mouths wide open. If she finds a cavity she makes out a memorandum and later takes the child to a dentist.
Toothbrush drills are part of the curriculum of many of the big city schools. Prizes are offered for those who can vouch for their ownership of toothbrushes and who can prove by the condition of their mouths that they use them. The nurse does everything in her power to persuade the children to spend a few of their pennies on tooth powder.
In one of the big New York schools nurses have combined with dentists to fight pyorrhea, the disease which causes receding gums. In this school intensive work was done recently by oral hygienists of Columbia university, who gave every child's mouth a thorough examination and left it in a hygienic condition.

MILK DEALER SAW REAL MEANING OF STANDING OFFER

Words "Dollar Back" in Every Nerv-Worth Ad Gave Him the Buying Faith.

That faith prompted the purchase of a first bottle. Other purchases followed and the tonic did the rest, as his signed statement, voluntarily made, fully proves:
Nerv-Worth Co.—Before taking Nerv-Worth, in fact ever since I was 16, I had serious stomach trouble. Could not eat cabbage, turnips, corn cakes, nor many vegetables, except with serious distress. When I saw that every Nerv-Worth ad contained the words "Your dollar back if the tonic does not help YOU," I concluded that the remedy must have real merit. I bought a bottle of it. That first bottle did me so much good that I felt encouraged to believe it would cure my indigestion. I kept on. So I took Nerv-Worth until four bottles had got in their work against my trouble and NOW I AM CURED. I can digest all those foods which gave me so much distress and can go to bed and sleep like a baby. Nerv-Worth also has banished all my nervousness and sleeplessness.
